Document 1: Artificial Intelligence Overview

Artificial intelligence (AI) is transforming industries by enabling machines to perform tasks that typically req
AI technologies include machine learning, natural language processing, and computer vision.
These systems can analyze vast amounts of data and make predictions or decisions with remarkable accu